NO POPULISTS AT MULE CREEK.

Here's a Chance for a School Ma'am to Get a School.

MULE CREEK, Oct. 2.—Once more I will send you some news from this section.

The roundups are over here for this season.

The cow men report a good crop of calves this year. A large herd of steers were started to Silver City yesterday, to be shipped. The grass is getting very dry but there is plenty of it. The crops are rapidly being gathered; have had some frost which made the farmers frown, and prepare to cut corn.

There was a young lady arrived on Mule Creek September 19th, who will some day call Mr. H. E. Crawford "papa." Mr. Crawford is the most successful farmer on Mule Creek.

I quite agree with Uncle Snort in regard to using whisky and cigars to catch votes, and all other matters in regard to county affairs.

I believe there are no populists up here, we are all "straight democrats."

We have no school up here yet, cannot get a suitable teacher.

MULE CREEK.

The Little Tycoon.

Thursday October 18th, is the date fixed by the Silver City Opera company for their presentation of Millard Spencer's beautiful comic opera "The Little Tycoon." This is perhaps one of the brightest operas ever written for the amateur stage, and in the hands of our local musical celebrities will be put upon the boards in such a manner as to reflect not alone credit to themselves but honor to its author. The opera abounds with comical selections and brilliant catchy music, while the dialogue is ludicrous and witty to a high degree. The principal cast is composed of the finest musical and dramatic talent of this city, and the choruses are strong. The Fort Bayard orchestra, under the directorship of Prof. C. H. Schaffner, will accompany the opera, which in itself will be a fine treat to our people. Tickets will be on sale at Porterfield's drug store Monday next at 10 o'clock a. m. sharp. The price of admission has been placed at 50 and 75 cents in order that all may spend a delightful evening at small expense. Next week THE EAGLE will publish a synopsis of the opera and the cast in full.

Obituary.

George Climo, who had been ill at the hospital here for some time, died last Monday evening aged 24 years. He leaves a wife and one child in Harborough, England, and had three brothers in this county and one in California. The deceased had been a resident of New Mexico about two years at the time of his death and was well and favorably known at Pinos Altos where he lived.

The funeral at Pinos Altos yesterday was one of the largest ever seen there. Quite a number of Silver City friends were in attendance and Prof. Selby, of the normal school, conducted the funeral services.
